SFX: "Flash"

Mmmm...

If they do any more than this, this could get a bit dangerous...

SFX: "Place"

I know this took place in the past, but to do this to such a young child...

Halt this instance!!

Please...

Stop this at once

SFX: "Gulp"

W-Wandra-nim...

I have heard the story from Keisi-nim.

SFX: "Bow"

To carry out this forbidden ritual.

It is much too severe to such a young child.

N-No, it's not that, Wandra-nim

You should already know well! This kid is...

SFX: "Pain"

This child is too dangerous to just leave alone!!!

Wandra-nim! I've never seen such abilities before!!!

This child's frightening abilities!!!

Abilities?

This child has not even reached the age of 5.

But look at her!

She can imitate magic she has seen just once...

But is that it? No! She is able to craft completely new spells just by thinking about it!

Just by looking at a spell, she is able to cast it without a ritual or incantation!

And it doesn't just end there! On top of her immense powers, she is able to borrow nature's powers.

주륵

Sfx: "Drip"

Due to that, this child has a near infinite amount of mana.

She is still a child. She is too young to understand wrong from right. For her to have so much power, it is a great threat.

She is just too dangerous.

Then, does this mean she had been drawing on nature's power the whole time?

주륵

Sfx: "Drip"

The strange feeling I had about Irena... Looks like I found out the cause of it.

Looks like I picked up a bit of a troublesome child.

I have heard your story I understand all your concerns.

However, no matter how dangerous she is,

Something like this shouldn't be done. Even if a child that does not know any thing. She has not done anything wrong.

Were you planning on turning her into a cripple from an inborn threat?

Having seen this much, I cannot let this matter go.

Wanda-nee!!

If we leave this child be, not only this village, but the world would may be put in peril

Sfx: "Drip"

The fact that she is young is very problematic. She still does not have control over her powers and she can't tell what's right from wrong.

Even if you feel pity, you cannot foretell how she will grow. And when you find out, it may be too late

Think about it! Just last night, you should know that this mischievous child almost put the entire village in danger.

Her power is just too huge for her young mind to fathom. This is not a matter or morality.

Then,

If I seal her powers away, would everything be fine?

As I thought. It's come down to this. Looks like she is rather determined.

I believe she was also a bit pushy last time I met her as well.

Even if it is you, Wandra-nee, you will not be able to completely seal away all her powers.

Sometime in the near future, her seal will definitely break.

When that time comes, we will not be able to do a thing.

I am sure there is a good reason why this girl was born into this world.

We cannot stop fate.

Even if the soul were to be broken, that does not matter. We just need to buy some time.

During this time, we shall teach this girl what is right and what is wrong. We will raise her to be proper.

Kaka-nim and I shall take custody of this child.

I trust Kaka-nim to raise this child correctly.

SFx: "Blow"

Thank you Wandra-nim... I will definitely raise her to become an upstanding girl.

Well then, let us go to my home.

SFx: "Turn"

You will regret this decision!!!

I am sure, one day, this decision will take you to your grave.

SFx: "Halt"

Bring the child.

SFx: "Step step"

SFx: "Shake"

So, such a thing has happened.

I didn't think it would be such an amazing story.

If it's something like this, I'm sure her memories of it were sealed.

Looks like I made a good decision to take her along. My luck was good.

SFx: "Grin"

SFx: "Sing"

Looking at the state of my body, I should be able to stay here a bit longer.

Maybe I should look around a bit more?

Watching the elven process of sealing is not something one gets to see every day...

Before me, it was last seen 12 generations ago.
Well, what I'm saying is that the ability to read ancient runes isn't all that common.
The ability that allows Irem to read ancient runes is the, very seal to Irem's powers...
As she reads more ancient runes, the seal's strength grows more powerful... a pretty effective method.
The ancient runes should still contain some leftover energy from the past.
Looks like these runes will be the key to when Irem's powers are unsealed.
Ah, now that I think about it...
She said that the ability appears once every several generations... Does that mean someone similar was born in the past?

What was it again? I recall she was called the Witch of the South.

Either way, back then she disappeared without a trace.

Next time I'll look into it. This may have some relevance with Irene's powers...

Ehhhh?

H-H-y, over here, Ayova.

The story written here is a bit strange.

What does it say?

Well, like I said, it's pretty outrageous.

If you hear it, I think you'll probably laugh.

Stop stalling and just tell me.

Then don't be surprised, okay?

Episode 84- Garden of God (02)

GOD?!

Who do you mean when you say god?

Intruders just came in, but why is there no reaction?

Step

As I said...

Step

That Janus guy who's chasing after you, Ajussi. The story is about him. Ah, there's also a story about you too

...story ..bout me?

That sounds ridiculous. Just what is written about me? I take it that it's not anything good?

Well, about Ajussi...

You're already notorious to begin with, however, there isn't much written that's bad about you.

Also, if you follow the story, Ajussi is also a distinct god.

Well, not a good god. You're the God of Destruction.

Str: "Pissed"

And that Janus guy is apparently a God on Earth. 300 years ago, it states that the God of Destruction caused many disasters...

And in the story, he appears as the god that saves the world. On top of that, it's written that should the humans of this world fall into peril once more, he will appear to save the world...

Or something like that.

Well, if you dramatize the rumors that surround you, I can understand up to a certain extent, but to say that you're a god, how ridiculous.

Since we're traveling with a god, does that mean we're god's children? I think I kind of like the sound of that.

Well, Ajussi...

You don't age and you have tremendous powers, but it's not enough to be called a god...

Then, isn't this a bit strange?

...Ajussi?

If they are just followers, there should be no way to know about the patterns on their faces... And ...even if they know, to say that we're gods?

Are you listening, Ajussi?

The only on...s who should know about this pattern should be me and that guy, so how did this happen? How confusing...

Ajussi!

Sfx "Flinch"

Sfx "Whack."

What's with you? You've been ignoring me for a while now!

Ahh... Sorry. I was lost in thought.

Ah-Right, you were talking about being a god?

A god... well, declaring someone is a god isn't all that difficult.

Especially for someone like me, who doesn't age as the time passes by. To people who hear about me...

They either worship me as a god or see me as a monster and chase after me to gain my body's secret. Therefore...

If events occur for several hundred years, it wouldn't be surprising for rumors to change into an amazing story like this. Like I said, it's not difficult at all.

Although the ones that chase after me are the majority, what I'm saying is that people who see me as a god exists.

I see... Ah, look, light. Looks like we'r... here.

Right.

Don't let your guard down.

Step

Step

Step

This is...

Sfx "Scratch scratch"

Euk! What is this?

.....

Ah...
This is... that, right?

Aren't they welcoming you, Ajussi?
EHHHHHHH???!!!

Are you serious?
All these guys are...
T-This doesn't even make any sense

Does this mean even the God of Destruction is still considered a god?

Hahahaha
Woah woah, this isn't a joke.

Ajussi, you're pretty amazing.
After being chased for so long, to be honest, I can't say I'm used to something like this.

I am pleased to see you here.
Welcome to the Garden of God,
Edermask-nim.

Although a bit modest, please comfortably rest here before departing.

I am the one responsible for this temple. I am called Priest Horuwashu.

스윽
From this moment on, I will be sure to guide you all personally.
Sfx: Raise
Before we hold our conversation, lets have a meal. Please follow me.

Edermask-nim, this way please.

Oh. He's a good host.

Hehe. Looks like we'll be able to have a good rest tonight.

Although it was amazing from outside, the inside is also pretty amazing, huh?

Hmm. 으으으음.

I didn't a tree could grow like this.

Please watch your step.

SFX: Step

I'll ask while we're still moving. Are you in league with Janus? Just what is your relation with him?

I'd like for you to tell the truth.

Yes? Hahaha, what could you be possibly...

Our existence is to welcome the gods. I am but a simple priest here.

And welcoming a god isn't something that happens every day.

It seems like you've misheard me.

What did Janus do here?

The three marks that are painted on your faces. It shouldn't be something that you guys should know about.

SFX: "Hah"

SFX: "Turn"

Ahh, looks like nothing gets passed you, Edermask-nim.

This is information that only a few of us know, so what I am about to tell you now, please keep it a secret.

You see, after a couple generations, this place becomes very hard to maintain.

If faith starts to weaken in a place build to welcome a god, well, the results are very clear, aren't they?

Hmm. Well, to get straight to the point, Janus- nim slowly built this temple expecting you to visit this place at some point in time.

He built this temple using the ancient ruins as a base, then engraved his own achievements as if they were predictions in the past. But I have heard that even then, he had god-like abilities . When I mean he, I mean the God on Earth, of coarse.

Well, Edermask -nim is the same as well.

I don't know whether Janus-nim was slowly planning on becoming a god, but I still hold high regards for the achievements he had accomplished.

* * * * *

He is a being that deserves high honor and praise. As a priest, the duty of welcoming a god is something I consider as an honor.

Your lies are of that of an amateur.

Why don't you drop the act. I'm sure you have a different reason?

...A different reason, you say?

Is the Spell of Immortality held here?

.....

Sfx: "Tear"

Eh?

Sfx: "Pow"

Ahhh! Yes sir!!!

Sfx: "Place"

You wanted me to bring that out, right?

Sfx: "Shove"

Sfx: "Burst"

Ahaha, I feel so sorry that I don't know what to say.

Sfx: "Swift"

Sfx: "Block"

Why don't we settle this matter of theft later.

Sfx: "Glare"

So I'll ask again.

Is it held here?

.....

Ah~
The tension was so heavy, that I couldn't even eat properly.

Sfx: "Ruh nuh"

Hey, try talking to him like you did before.

No way
You do it, Enzu

Why?
Just talk to him like, "hoya."

Read the mood.
Whether or not this is "like always".

Sfx: "Lean"

Edermask-nim, although I want to tell you everything, it's rather difficult with the atmosphere around you.

Then, well, I guess I'll just start talking. Hahaha...

Just like I said before, you won't find the Spell of Immortality here.

Janus-nim isn't that much of a careless person.

To tell you the truth, us priests decided to follow Janus-nim in the first place in order to gain immortality.

But of course, that isn't the only reason we serve Janus-nim. Well, by my own standards.

Sfx: "Scatter"

A god is a being who governs the saints and his people. But to faithfully believe in a god which you cannot even see...

My piety would obviously disappear. However, looking at Janus-nim's acts and abilities, he practically embodies god itself.

But humans are doubtful creatures by nature. At first there were some misgivings about immortality.

But Janus-nim cleared that small fragment of doubt with his vast accomplishments.

According to Janus-nim, the first human he gave the gift of immortality to, was you, Edermask-nim.

When I first saw your figure, I recognized you right away.

Sfx: "Turn"

This is because you give off the same aura around you as Janus-nim.

I can sense the long flow of time within you, Edermask-nim.

Something that normal humans would not be able to perceive... an ancient...

As I thought... is he still alive?

When I heard about it, I thought of it as a possibility...

I also took the liberty of investigating this place...

But this place seems to be just a temple. Jaus-nen built. It holds no clues to immortality.

However, I do have a conjecture. It's Ambroskoom. I am sure that place holds a clue to immortality.

Ambroskoom? I have already investigated the city before. There was nothing there.

Ambroskoom is where it is?

Ambroskoom is where it is?

If you did not find anything, that means you did not investigate properly.

What do you mean?

It's because there is another sanctuary over there.

But the key difference between this temple and the one there...

Is that the temple there is set in the oldest ruins within the continent.

The place has quite a history. I've heard the messenger of the Spell of Immortality once visited there.

The temple in Ambroskoom, like this temple, was built to welcome you, Edermask-nim.

Therefore, there is a good chance a clue to the spell exists within that temple. Especially considering how ancient it is.

!!!

AHHH!!!

It's Kjaus!

Edermask-nim is...

It looks just like him!

Uwaaa...

I've heard Janus-nim carries out many executions there.

I don't have any specifics, but I believe the spell of immortality may also be there.

And, I'm sure you know by now.

Six "Swish"

But this is Janus-nim. our god.

Try "Sigh"

Trying to become a god?

Or perhaps he really is...

Is he still trying to contrive...

All this can't be built just to drag me into this, right?

Are you planning to leave this early, Edermask-nim?

Since I have found a new hunt on the spell, I must leave right away. You have been of great help. Thank you.

Please hold on to this while leaving the forest. I am sure it will be of use.
This is?
As long as you hold this branch, you will be able to cross the forest without being attacked by the forest's demons.

It would have been much more easier if we had one of these when we came into the forest...
Haha, that's true.

That branch is from the mother tree. It calms the swirling mana flow and gets rid of the feeling of unease within the forest.

Episode 25- Sacrifice (03)

Sfx: "Boom"

Sfx: "Crash"

These guys seem rather excited, don't they?
쿠쿵
Ajussi, you're tired, right?
Sfx: "Boom"
Although we're pinned down, with Ajussi's powers, can't we get out of this sigil?
하아 Haa
하아 Haa
그럼 방법이?
At this rate, we're done for.

Ahh, if it's this much, getting out of the sigil is a simple thing. But there is a problem...
Problem?
You see, I took a look at the sigil before this, and...
I found that if I were to use my powers within the sigil, you guys will also be caught up in it.
Oooh...

.....
Waaaait
As I thought, we're just baggage to Ajussi after all!!!

Items, no matter how bad it is, to say that we're baggage is...
Now now. Don't go falling into despair. Irem, this time I will need your powers.
Can you do it?
M- My powers?
Sfx: "Sniff" "Rub"
What should I do?
I will definitely do it.

Sfx. "Za za za zap"

That's correct. You don't have the option to destroy the sigil. However...

Sfx. "Grw"

Should you even choose to, my men won't weak enough to just give up against you. Especially since you can't utilize your full powers because of your party...

This should be more than enough to face them!!!

Go raise arrows on them!!!

Sfx: "Crackle"

As I thought, this much strength won't do

This vigil is much more stable than the last one. It's good enough for them to be proud of it

Looks like they're maintaining the vigil's balance by splitting the stress amongst themselves.

Well, if that's true, then...

You guys keep it up! You must endure!!!

후욱

Sfx: "Drip"

You cannot falter as vanguard shall!!!

If one of you dies on their own, it's all for naught!!!

Sfx. "Spark spark"

Just endure a little bit.

Sfx. "Tremble tremble"

All I need is a moment.

Sfx. "Flash"

The forest's protection?

Sfx. "Gulp"

Right. While I break this sigil, cover everyone under the forest's protection.

Ev...yon...

I'll try my best to not harm you guys, but I won't be able to channel all ofcccc my powers into the sigil.

So while I'm destroying the sigil, don't worry about me and put all your effort into blocking my powers.

Thank you can handle it?

Sfx: "Drip"

Heh~
Blocking Ajassi's powers... There are no options other than this, right?

If that's the case, of course I'll do it.

Sfx: "Turn"

FOREST'S PROTECTION.

Sfx: "Glow"

Sfx: "Grab"

Good job, Izumi.

I'm starting now.

Sfx. "Turn"

We understand, Dan-nim.

오윽

We don't want to yield our efforts to just one kid after all.

Sfx. "Clench"

Kgh, right. Please endure it a little longer...

Edermask shouldn't be able to raise his power any more than this for the sake of his party.

So this should be the same as a match against that kid.

Whichever side it is, the moment a side gives out, it will end in an instant.

Endure it. Please do not lose.

BUUUUUR!

Sfx. "Glow"

After feeling his power right up front, I know just how amazing Ajussi is...

Sfx. "Tingle tingle"

His powers didn't go through the protection spell, but I can feel it through my body.

If I lose concentration for even one moment, it's all over.

Irem, can you handle it?

What?

Although they're sharing the burden, I'm sure they're not fine either.

But I feel that they're at their limit. If I push my powers a little further, I think I can break this seal...

So do you think you can handle a little more power?

M-More power?

.....

I can't handle it for long, okay?

Sfx. "Turn"

If you think you've reached your limit, just tell me.

Hey, it's cool, relax. Use that power to defend when a valid one pops up!

To increase his power... Is he planning to eat them?!

Everyone stop right now, this is nonsense!!!

We're abandoning the soul. Now everyone release the seal, hurry!

Sfx: "Flash"

Sfx: "Sizzle"

I cannot sacrifice you guys like this any longer.

We're giving up on the soul and moving on to the next phase.

Take care of those who are injured.
